the Japanese Association for Humanistic Psychology

日本人間性心理学会とは

本会は人間性を理解し、その回復と成長に貢献することを通じて、社会的に責任を果たし得る心理学の研究と実践を推進することを目的としています。

「日本人間性心理学会」は、1982年7月11日に発足いたしました。1978年の日本心理学会大会(九州大学)において、「ヒューマニスティック心理学についてのシンポジウム」が持たれて以来、「ヒューマニスティック心理学研究会」として会を重ねてきましたが、京都女子大学での大会において学会として発足するに至ったものです。

正規の会則は、翌1983年9月10、11日の第2回大会(開催校 文教大学)の折りに決められました。

About JAHP

The Japanese Association for Humanistic Psychology (JAHP) is dedicated to the development of research and practice of humanistic psychology. Our responsibility is to contribute to society through individual's health, growth, and recovery.

The Japanese Association for Humanistic Psychology (JAHP) was founded as an academic organization on July 11, 1982.

Since "The Symposium about Humanistic Psychology" was held in the Japanese Psychological Association convention (Kyushu University) in 1978, the study group had been continued as a "Humanistic Psychology Study Group", but at the convention in Kyoto Women's University, it came to be inaugurated as a society.

The formal regulations of a society were decided on the occasion of the 2nd convention (in Bunkyo University) held on September 10-11, 1983.
